

Teaching-Learning Strategies to Enhance Self-Directed Learning

Dr Chantelle Bosch, Dr Donnavan Kruger, Prof Aubrey Golightly, Mrs Sukie van Zyl, as well as Mrs Anita Lubbe presented The Centre for Teaching and Learning's SDL workshop on 27 – 29 August 2019 on the three NWU campuses respectively. Staff members from various faculties enrolled for the workshop, with an overall expectation of learning how to promote SDL within their classes.

Since SDL is a strategic priority at the NWU, the workshop started by highlighting the necessity for SDL skills within the 21st century higher education context. From being involved in this workshop, it is evident that staff members across all faculties and campuses are eager to implement teaching-learning strategies that are more active in nature – promoting our students' SDL skills.

Onderrigleerstrategieë om selfgerigte leer te bevorder

Dr Chantelle Bosch, dr Donnavan Kruger, prof Aubrey Golightly, mev Sukie van Zyl, asook mev Anita Lubbe het die Sentrum vir Onderrig en Leer se SDL-werkswinkel op 27 – 29 Augustus 2019 op die drie onderskeidelike NWU-kampusse aangebied. Personeellede van verskillende fakulteite het ingeskryf vir die werkswinkel, met 'n algehele verwagting om te leer hoe om SDL binne hul klasse te bevorder.

Aangesien SDL 'n strategiese prioriteit by die NWU is, het die werkswinkel begin met die beklemtoning van die noodsaaklikheid van SDL-vaardighede binne die konteks van hoër onderwys in die 21ste eeu. Vanweë hul betrokkenheid by die werkswinkel, is dit duidelik dat personeellede regoor die verskillende fakulteite en kampusse gretig is om onderrig-leerstrategieë te implementeer wat meer aktief van aard is – om die studente se SDL-vaardighede te bevorder.
